Searing Criticism Levelled Direct At Chamberlain Head

He Spares No Words As Speaker

Official Policy of Friendship With Italy Endorsed by Vote of 330 to 168 in Bitter Debate of Years

LONDON, Feb. 23.—The House of Commons voted confidence in Prime Minister Chamberlain's policy of friendship with Italy last night after a two-day debate as bitter and as tense as any of recent years. The vote was 330 to 168.

LEAGUE DYING, EUROPE BACK TO OLD FORM

Collective Security Doomed As Friends Of Geneva See Downfall

By GEORGE HAMILTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 23.—Collective security is dead. Europe is back to pre-war power politics. From the walls of Versailles and the hitherto which followed the signing of the League of Nations, Europe has emerged in a new form. The League of Nations, which was the last hope of peace, is now a thing of the past. The League of Nations, which was the last hope of peace, is now a thing of the past.

"The League is dead," explains Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express, "and the world is back to pre-war power politics. The League of Nations, which was the last hope of peace, is now a thing of the past. The League of Nations, which was the last hope of peace, is now a thing of the past."

OTTAWA REPLY ON SENTENCES READ IN HOUSE

Discussion Of Resolution Seeking Immediate Reply Postponed

Receipt of an acknowledgment from the secretary to Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, that the writ sent by Mr. Speaker Peter Dawson, conveying the resolution passed in the legislature by Mr. Weir, M.L.A., had reached Ottawa, resulted in postponement of discussion on a further resolution seeking an immediate and favorable reply.

Mr. Powell is the Douglas Social Credit technician and adviser to the Alberta Social Credit board and Mr. Uxton is member of the legislature for Edmonton. They are serving six and three months sentences respectively following convictions for defamatory libel arising out of publication of the "bankers' leaders' list."

MOVED SECOND MOTION

A. V. Bourcier, S.C., Lac Ste. Anne who moved the original resolution seeking revision of sentences, had moved the second motion asking for an immediate, favorable reply. This motion was filed by Mr. Bourcier on Friday last and has not yet been debated.

When the motion was reached in the order of business, legislative who yesterday took Prime Minister Chamberlain to task and in plain talk said the British premier had done something disgraceful in the resignation of Anthony Eden, foreign secretary.

The vote came on the top of a sharp clash between David Lloyd George and the prime minister, the former drawing on the debating skill of his 48 years of parliamentary experience to put Mr. Chamberlain on the defensive with charges of participating in an intrigue with the Italian ambassador to force Foreign Secretary Eden out of the cabinet.

"I don't see I've done anything disgraceful," Lloyd George retorted when the Welsh statesman, whipping an oratorical out-of-synch across the treasury bench, alleged Mr. Chamberlain, in making sure he got Eden out of the cabinet, had helped knowledge of a favorable communication from Italy on the Spanish question.

"The prime minister knows this document was in existence and he never took the trouble to secure it," Lloyd George said. "The Italian ambassador never took the trouble to deliver it because he wanted to get rid of the foreign secretary," Mr. Lloyd George asserted.

The prime minister, who in an earlier reply to his critics, had insisted the League of Nations was to throw off its "shame and preference" before the wartime leader if he implied he had done something disgraceful.

"I was the last reply," Lloyd George said.

"Here was an important document never placed in the hands of a minister who felt so strongly about it that he was resigning," Mr. Lloyd George continued.

Writing the opposition benches calling upon the government to resign, Mr. Eden was from his private member's place, contradicted the Prime Minister's version of the affair.

Sino Planes Raid Formosa 3 Jap War Chiefs Demoted

Big Island Colony Bombed

TOKYO, Feb. 23.—Seven Chinese planes raided Japan's island colony of Formosa today, inflicting "numerous casualties," Demoted Japanese navy commander reported. It was the first time since 1934, when a British-French-Dutch fleet bombed Shimonoseki, that territory of the Japanese empire had been subjected to hostile foreign bombardment.

It was the empire's first air raid.

An army commander charged the Chinese planes killed and wounded women and children at Tainan, the capital, and Shichiku city.

It said an obscure number of planes appeared over the capital, flying at such an altitude that anti-aircraft guns were unable to reach them.

Consequently the bombs landed far from the local airforce, hitting private houses and causing casualties among women and children. There was no serious damage.

The communists said Shichiku city was bombed in the same manner.

A city of 275,000, Tainan is the southern tip of the island, approximately 120 miles east of the southeastern coast of China.

Matsu's Sway Now At End

SHANGHAI, Feb. 23.—Recall of three of the highest Japanese commanders was announced today in the midst of reports the Japanese had suffered a sharp setback on the front north of Nanking.

Japanese war headquarters announced officially that General Shunroku Hata, commander of military education in Japan, was stepping into the shoes of General Iwane Matsui as commander-in-chief of Japanese forces in the Shanghai-Nanking area.

Matsu's recall because of the success of Chinese counter-attacks, together with reports of the Japanese army and friction with other officials, became known unofficially last week.

The other two high officers ordered back were Lt. General Prince Yasuoka, commander of Japanese expeditionary forces, and Lt. General Heisuke Yanaga, commander of Japanese forces landing force.

The Japanese advance northward from Nanking toward Suzhou, near the Yangtze corridor, has been checked by the Chinese. A 100-mile gap between the Peking and Japanese in southern Shanghai province.

Sea And Air Fight Rages On Spain's Coast

MADRID, Feb. 23.—Insurgent warships and government planes fought a fierce battle today on the Spanish coast, in which two insurgent warships were believed to have been sunk. The government announced.

The coastal cities of Valencia and Sagunto were heavily bombed and shelled during the engagement, in which a French merchant vessel was damaged.

A defense ministry communication said that two insurgent warships were believed to have been sunk. The government announced.

Letter

By J. E. NORCROSS

LONDON, Feb. 23. The partial lifting of the embargo on the investment of capital abroad indicates that the government has the same view as Sir Robert Borden on this question.

It is often true that the remedy for a disease is to be found in the disease itself. The disease is the disease, and the remedy is the disease.

It is a significant fact that constipation is present in many diseases, and is probably the greatest single cause of disease. Some of the most common diseases are the following: Catarrh, liver trouble, acute, chronic, and other diseases.

Constipation may range all the way from mild cases of occasional clogging, to very severe cases in which a natural evacuation seldom occurs. When it may be found at all ages and in all of the problems of anatomy.

It is in seeking a remedy for constipation you have tried bran and found it irritating then, probably have spastic constipation. If the bran produces no effect, then you probably have the flabby type of constipation.

I suggest that you look for my article in this newspaper tomorrow, which will outline some of the common causes of constipation.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
QUESTION: I have been questioned so much that I have wondered from what root the word is derived. Can you tell me?

ANSWER: The word is believed to come from the Latin word "audere," meaning "to dare." The word "audere" is the root of the word "audacious."

QUESTION: Mrs. K. T. writes: "We often argue over the question of whether the window should be opened or closed in the winter. My husband is a frost-bite and wants it open. He complains that when I close the window the air seems stuffy. Perhaps you will help us out by suggesting a remedy to do with the windows during cold weather."

ANSWER: The best way of providing for adequate ventilation during the winter is to keep the windows open at the top and bottom. This allows the stale, warm air to escape through the top opening and allows the fresh air to enter through the bottom opening.

AN OLD GAME

It is by child and doubtful courtesy that critics of the Federal Government seek to throw the onus of Mr. Bennett's electoral corruption charges upon Premier King.

A conservative spokesman said yesterday that the bickering back and forth in the House between Mr. King and Bennett has become tiresome and that Mr. King should end by instituting an investigation into the Bennett innuendoes.

Such a conclusion is more than egregious: it is downright absurd.

What is there for Mr. King to investigate into Mr. Bennett comes out flat-footed and told in detailed terms just what he is getting at?

An investigation into every election that has been held in Canada during the past five years would take a couple of lifetimes and millions of money.

And yet that is what would have to occur if the Prime Minister took the advice of this Tory mouthpiece and decided to act on the vague and unspecific charge leveled by Mr. Bennett.

Liberals and Conservatives, alike, know as well as they know anything that Premier King is the last man in Canada to tolerate any funny business in an election. Mr. Bennett himself must know that Mr. King even leans backward in that regard, that his political probity, like Mr. Bennett's own, is decisively above suspicion.

Why, then, seek to delude the Canadian people with idiotic advice that no sane political leader should attempt to carry out?

Mr. Bennett is plainly playing an old political game.

Feeling the lack of legitimate opposition publicity is a serious handicap for new parties, Mr. Bennett is giving vent to his personal animosity over what happened in Victoria.

True friends of Mr. Bennett and the Conservatives in Parliament are not so easily misled by this erratic notion. They will tell him to either "put up or shut up."

But then, of course, there are some critics that are not so easily misled by Mr. Bennett's tactics.

WELL-OUT OF IT

Press despatches say there was gratification in Berlin, open rejoicing in Rome, consternation in Paris, and puzzled anxiety in London over the ousting of Anthony Eden.

The reactions in all quarters were exactly what could have been predicted, and what the event called for.

Vacuous Chamberlain applied the situation when he said Mr. Chamberlain proposes to see an accord with Italy by a "surrender to blackmail." The Prime Minister offered in defense that he had spent a long day yesterday in the House.

What chance there is of obtaining the "peace" for which he is prepared to pay so heavy a price is shown by the behavior of Count Grandi, Italian ambassador in London.

True friends of Mr. Bennett and the Conservatives in Parliament are not so easily misled by this erratic notion. They will tell him to either "put up or shut up."

ESLING BILL IS APPLAUDED IN FAST PASSAGE

Small Businesses Are Exempted From Paying Fees to Organization

OTTAWA, Feb. 22.—The House of Commons went into high gear this night to pass the Bill for the Copyright Performing Rights Society. It passed through second reading, committee stage, and third reading in an hour, accompanied by deafening applause from all sides of the chamber.

Sponsored by W. K. Esling (Cons., Kootenay West), the bill passed unanimously and will go now to the senate. It was introduced and again in 1937 but got nowhere.

The bill had two main purposes: to force the Canadian Performing Rights Society to publish a list of the 2,000 musical numbers which it claims to hold copyright in, and to exempt small businesses, such as restaurants, hotels, and other places where music is played by radio or phonograph.

$70,000 SPENT ON FINISHING HOUSING PLAN

City Completing 16 Residences, Four Cottages Under Program

Construction of 16 private dwellings and four cottages under Edmonton's municipal housing program, which cost approximately $70,000 is nearing completion, according to reports received Thursday from Commissioner Robert J. Gibb and Mr. J. H. Marland, city architect and building inspector. The program started last year.

The duplex cottages for occupancy by city relief cases have been finished and are now being occupied, two couples being given quarters in each cottage. Sixteen persons will be given accommodation in the four cottages, and the program is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

Mrs. Norton Says She'll "Take This Lot Farther"

Central Figure Of Sensational Suit Poses, Then Retires

VANCOUVER, Feb. 22.—Mrs. Violet Norton, cited from the United States where a circuit court subject, Mrs. Norton, previous conviction that ordered her to jail for a year, arrived here by train from Seattle, where she will ultimately return to her home in Washington.

Mrs. Norton greeted Mrs. J. C. Norton, her sister, with affection. But for interviewers she said little. After posing for photographers she told them: "I'm tired now. Please don't bother me any more. I want to go home to my sister."

Mrs. Norton was convicted at a Los Angeles last April of using the mail to defraud in the case of the film actor, who she later married. She was released after serving seven months of her sentence.

Mrs. Norton was sentenced to a year in prison for her conviction. She was released after serving seven months of her sentence. She was released after serving seven months of her sentence.

NO MORE BILIOUSNESS!

Experience of Ontario Woman

Would you like to be cured? Free of heart, bile, biliousness, constipation, indigestion, flatulence, headache? Since I was 15 years old, I have suffered from biliousness. I have tried many remedies, but nothing has helped me. I have been cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I feel better, my digestion is improved, and my health is restored. I am now a healthy, happy woman. I am now a healthy, happy woman. I am now a healthy, happy woman.
